There's no place like home (business) for female entrepreneurs.

Hello Fellow Femtrepreneur,

Do you long for a job where you make the rules and that brings you fulfillment while allowing you to have a home life?

Have you ever thought about starting a home business? Women working at home on their own internet home businesses are some of today's most successful entrepreneurs. If you've dreamed of being your own boss, you're not alone. All over this country, people are making just such dreams come true, each and every day.

You've probably heard all about the potential benefits of working from home, things like:

- flexible hours
- more time with your family
- the joy of creating something of your own
- being in control of your own destiny
- not having to get dressed if you don't want to! ;)

But of course there are some less attractive issues connected with starting a home business as well, things such as:

- financial risk & the costs of start up
- lack of business knowledge
- staying motivated
- potential overflow of business into home life

So, how do you find out if starting a home business is the right path for you? Glad you asked ...

The key to discovery is education.

Before you walk down a new path in life, it is important that you know as much about that path as possible. This is where HomeSweetBiz.com comes in. We offer an online training program that is absolutely FREE for the taking.

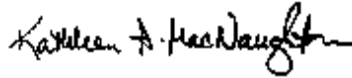

Our series of lessons are listed below. We are dedicated to helping aspiring or novice female entrepreneurs become successful in starting their own internet home business.
